Boys' Easter Clothing.

If you hurry on the last day before Easter don't make the mistakes which are so easy to make in buying boys' clothing. The best way to prevent them is to come straight here, where you are sure that you are getting THE BEST—the worthiest.

Children's Suits at $1.98 and $2.98.

Every clothier sells children's suits at $1.98 and $2.98, but note the many superior points of ours at these prices over others'. The materials are better materials, and in instances where they are no better, you'll find that the suits are better made—more strongly sewn—more thoroughly finished. Greatest variety at these prices in double-breasted vestie styles.

Children's Suits at $3.98 and $4.98.

The finest suits for children are in these lots—the noblest effects in vestie, sailor blouse, and double-breasted effects, and the variety is enough to astound you. At these prices you can have the very natty plain blue and black serge suits—and particular attention is called to the novelties of serge in sailor blouse and vestie effects—trimmed with silk braid and embroidered with silk anchors and figures.

Bat and Ball with Each Child's Suit.

Men's Easter Suits, $10.

So many men don't care to pay any more than that we've made it a point to make up an enormous variety of suits at this price. Blue and black serge and chevrons and black Tibets—fancy striped and check chevrons, worsteds, and cassimeres—and the very popular Oxford quixed chevrons, not only in every size, but in proportions to fit men out of the ordinary in build—short and tall stout men—tall, thin, men—very erect and stooped-shouldered men—and men with long legs or arms. A fit is guaranteed you in every instance, and you can count that we save you at least $2.50 on these $10 suits.

Pay Us $2 for a Spring Hat

—and get the same grade for which others ask $3. It's like finding the dollar we save you. And we put before you as large an assortment of shapes and shades in Derbys and Fedoras as any other store. All have silk reversible bands and bindings, are non-breakable and fast in color—or money back.

Greatest assortment of boys' derbys, fedoras, telescopes, yachts, etc., at prices which mean a saving in every instance.

CLEWS ON THE MARKET

The Financial Critic Foresees Advancements in the Prices of Stocks.

Easy Money, Earnings Large, General Trade Satisfactory—Support of the Inside Interests—New York Exchanges Take an Optimistic Holiday—Tomorrow's Bank Statement.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The Stock Exchange and the other exchanges are taking two holidays on account of Good Friday. Business will be resumed next Monday.

There is much interested comment among business men who have got down to Wall Street today over the bank statement which will appear tomorrow at 11:30, as usual. The banks have gained from the sub-treasury and from the interior several millions of dollars since last Friday and there is a general belief that the statement will be an excellent one. The loans will not show anything like such a large increase this week as they did last, as speculation has not been as heavy.

Henry Clews, the financial critic, says of the situation: "Prices have shown reaction symptoms during the past week, owing more to a sensible disposition to take profits than to any pronounced change in the general situation. The approach of the Easter holidays somewhat tended to restrict transactions, especially on London account, where the possibility of unfavorable news from the Transvaal during a four-days' suspension of business naturally checked speculative operations."

"The condition of the Stock Market continues favorable, and it is noticeable that efforts for the rise are much more successful than those for the fall. At the moment the market is largely under the influence of professional manipulators, and the majority of these, it is plain, are on the bull side."

"The public have both bought and sold rather more freely than of late; and the readiness with which stocks offered are absorbed by strong buyers is evidence of healthy conditions. While there are elements in the situation that will bear watching, such as the Presidential campaign and the future of the money market, it would be folly to suppose that these factors will produce anything like the disturbances of four years ago. A more important factor is the money market. Home conditions are favorable to continued ease for some time to come. The entries for tomorrow's races at Benning are:

Easter Specials in Men's Clothing.

In the hurry of this day tomorrow you will best appreciate the immense advantages of Full Reform perfection and the wide variety afforded exclusively in our stock. So long leaders—leadership is easy. When leaders have been content to accept improvement as it slowly came—our past is paved with remitting endeavor—that has outstripped and outbattered all other ready to wear making. "Full Reform" is the climax. It's an impossible achievement for others. It's the only medium through which absolute and complete perfection is reached. It makes Saks-made clothing equal to the best custom-made clothing—and vastly superior to "cheap" tailoring on next best ready to wear.

The Suits and Top Coats from $7.50 to $10 are honest values, but not "Full Reform" garments—but at $10 and over they are. Thus we can guarantee a degree of worth and satisfaction at $10 NEVER BEFORE approached.

THOUGHT HE BOUGHT BUTTER.
But Oleomargarine Was the Produce Carried Home.
(From the Chicago News.)

"Wily butter dealers who do a land-of-business in the sales of oleomargarine," remarked a householder as he boarded a "country car" "can easily sell you a substitute for the dairy article without your knowledge and still come within the requirements of the law. Now here's a package I bought a few minutes ago in a store in Madison street; paid 25 cents a pound for it and thought I was getting the best separator creamery. But it's my own fault. The man behind the counter brought out samples of butter and 'oleo' and I tasted them both with the result that I said, 'gimme a pound of that,' and took what he handed me. When I got too far away to walk back to have him change it, I found that he had sold me 'oleo' at butter prices."

The speaker then displayed a neatly wrapped brown-paper package, the finding of which is said to be one of the tricks of the business, and whereby the law is carried out in the letter if not in the spirit.

In one corner of the wrapper, plainly stamped in red ink, with the name of the dealer, appeared the word "Oleomargarine" in letters three-quarters of an inch in length. Only a portion of the stamp was visible, however, to the eye of the purchaser, as the name of the article was cleverly concealed by the method of folding. Even when the package is opened the stamp fails to show fully until the paper is completely unfolded and the creases smoothed out.

A MARVELOUS WATCH.
The Midget of Timepieces Owned in Berlin.
(From the Chicago News.)

There is in Berlin a man who is the proud possessor of a timepiece which is considered to be the most marvelous piece of mechanism that human skill ever put together. Ingenuity and human skill have been brought into operation with the result that a watch has been constructed which measures one-fourth of an inch in diameter, or one with the face about the size of the head of a large-sized tack or nail. Its case is made of the finest gold and the whole watch weighs less than two grains.

In Troy weight it takes 480 grains to make an ounce, and twelve ounces constitute a pound. So great a curiosity was this midget considered that its owner paid $1,946.60 for it, and would not sell it for twice that amount.

Numerals on the face are in Arabic and if the hands were put end to end they would not measure five-twenty-fourths of an inch in length, the large one being less than one-eighth and the small one being less than one-twelfth of an inch long. It has, besides, just as an ordinary watch or clock, a second indicator, which is about as large in diameter as the small hand is long, and the hand of this second indicator is less than one-sixteenth of an inch in length. The nut, rails here are also in Arabic, but are engraved in red, to be more easily discernible. Works and hands are made of the finest tempered steel and are set throughout in diamond chips. It is constructed on the most improved plan, being wound by the stem and set by pulling the stem out a short distance.
